

Crew Companion

A BETTER QUALITY OF LIFE

MAKE SCHEDULING THE SOLUTION – NOT THE PROBLEM

Always a challenge to major airlines, crew scheduling is also a decisive factor that contributes to employee satisfaction. Crew Companion tips the scale in favor of a greater work-life balance, and revolutionizes control by empowering pilots and flight attendants to view, change and manage their schedules – and improve quality of life every day, both while on the job and at leisure.

Its automated trip-trade interface is transformative, and allows crews to work smarter. With Crew Companion, personnel can drop, pick up and trade trips that better meet their needs – and ultimately work when they want, where they want.

When crewmembers get such a powerful combination of freedom, functionality and flexibility, their morale and productivity can improve dramatically.

As a result, airlines using Crew Companion can see substantial decreases in crew-associated costs – one major carrier achieved a 10% reduction in sick leave from two thousand of its pilots using Crew Companion.

Empower Airline Employees and Improve Their Lives

After extracting data from an airline’s scheduling system, Crew Companion serves it up in an uncomplicated, yet information-rich format that gives crewmembers everything they need to manage and improve their schedules – from anywhere, on any internet-enabled device.

Its intuitive interface displays current flying assignments, potential trading opportunities and a monthly calendar that auto-syncs with the most popular calendar apps. Personnel can easily visualize trips through pairing details, set personalized criteria to automate trades, and instantly see work hours, pay and legal limitations.

Airline crews finally have the tools to take charge of their own schedules, instead of letting schedules rule their lives.

- 1 Trip matching a notification or a trade criteria will show colored star
- 2 Quickly adjust bases and date range filter
- 3 Add additional filter criteria
- 4 Intuitive icons quickly identify trips listed by others for drop or trade vs trips that are in open time
- 5 See who else wants that trip and their seniority
- 6 Visual Trip Details use bar heights and colors to “paint the picture” of each trip
- 7 Propose or create a trade from a shopped trip with one click
- 8 Shopped trip trade lets you see how it would fit in your calendar
- 9 The monthly pay and days off updated for a shopped trade

Turn on Crews Control

The lifestyle of airline crews can be unpredictable enough, even for those with seniority. Why not give everyone, even reserves, the flexibility to create and manage the schedules they dream of – instead of anxiously sitting by the computer or phone all day, hoping for the right option to appear?

Crew Companion acts as a personal scheduling assistant that helps crewmembers make quick and accurate decisions while reducing the frustrations they've come to expect. It works with current browsers, and the mobile version is optimized to display on tablets and smartphones.

Consult the Calendar

An interactive monthly calendar, complemented by intuitive visual trip details, displays a crewmember's schedule – which can be customized with personal events and even shared with family – as well as a summary of hours and pay. This makes trip shopping effortless, as it's easy to see how other trips might fit in, what effect they have on flight hours and pay, and any legality issues.

Visual trip details – including segments, assigned crew, and hotel and transportation information, when available – are just a click away, as are lists of open trips and full FIFO reserves for today, tomorrow and the next day.

Better Schedules, Automatically!

Crew Companion takes the guesswork out of trip trading, and lets crewmembers schedule more of what they want, and less of what they don't. Using its fully integrated trade board, pilots and flight attendants can choose up to 30 parameters to filter trips, and shop potential matches from among open trips, as well as those offered up for drop or trade – and when matches don't exist, a customized system makes proposing and accepting trades much faster.

An extensive notification system based on individualized criteria alerts users to newly opened trips, recent posts to the trade board, proposals from other crewmembers and when trades execute – delivered using their desired method, including email, text or automated voice message.

But it's features like Auto-Trade Requests and One-Click Preflight that truly put the "free" in free time: auto-trade requests, when permitted by an airline, instantly fire from a crewmember's computer when matching trades enter the system, and One-Click Preflight preps them for flight with updated flight data, airport, hotel and layover city information.

When crewmembers get such a powerful combination of freedom, functionality and flexibility, their morale and productivity can improve dramatically.

- 1 Visual Trip Details use bar heights and colors to "paint the picture" of each trip
- 2 Quickly export calendar to Google or set up automatic iCalendar syncing
- 3 Pay Summary shows a quick view of your monthly totals
- 4 Quick summary of trip details make viewing on the go a snap!
